Faith Without Works

Napoleon Hill says that, “Whatever the mind can conceive and believe can be achieved.” While this statement sounds rather grandiose there is certainly a measure of truth in it. It’s pretty much the same as what Jesus said two thousand years earlier: “According to your faith be it unto you.” (Matthew 9:29) But as James, the brother of Jesus, explained, without action faith is useless.

As the old saying goes, you can’t steer a ship anywhere until it is moving. Zig Ziglar in his book, See You at the Top, put it this way: “The largest locomotive in the world can be held in its tracks while standing still simply by placing a single two-and-a-half centimetre block of wood in front of each of the eight drive wheels. The same locomotive moving at 160 kilometres per hour can crash through a wall of steel reinforced concrete one-and-a-half metres thick.”

The important thing is that we get moving! As James said, “Faith without works is dead.”

Some people are sitting around waiting for some kind of special call or revelation from God before they get involved in His work. It’s not likely to happen because God has already given us lots of instructions in His Word regarding what to do.

All we need to do is read them ... and start moving.

Sandals

Anybody?

It is said that when Mahatma Gandhi boarded a train one day, a sandal slipped off his foot and landed beneath the train. The distinguished Indian leader did not have time to retrieve it. Quickly Gandhi removed the other sandal and threw it back down the track in the direction of the other sandal. When asked for an explanation, the teacher replied, "The poor man who finds the shoe lying on the track will now have a pair he can use."
